Hints For The Home

Get Away From It All—And Still Get Things Done

(NAPSA)—It may come as a surprise to many, but the laundry doesn't have to be a dark or boring space.

Stephen Saint-Onge, author of "No Place Like Home," has come up with a few tips on turning your laundry area into a place where you like to spend time.

Says Saint-Onge, "You want to end up with a laundry area that you love going into—instead of feeling like you are stuck doing chores—and this can be done creatively and without breaking the bank. These small changes will make the laundry process more enjoyable overall."

• Accessorize away. Find fun things to put in the room, such as matching, colorful storage bins and baskets, and area rugs with vivid patterns. To create visual moments on counters, add coordinating canisters for detergents or other cleaning products. Make the space stylish while still keeping the room practical for everyday use.

• Light up your life. Make sure you have proper lighting. Don't use harsh fluorescent light-bulbs in the laundry room. Use lighting that will warm up the space and make it more comfortable. Easy-to-install halogen track lights are great for directing light on to work areas. Think about nice pendant lights over a "folding counter" or island to add some visual interest to the room.

• Color a closet. You can even have a lovely laundry room in a closet when you choose a color you love. This can be a great place to put a color that you wanted to use—such as a darker tone or a vibrant color—but didn't want to use in the more "public" rooms of your home. Complement a big pop of wall color with a stackable front-loading laundry pair in a more neutral shade such as the Whirlpool Duet in Lunar Silver.

Wherever your laundry room may be, you can turn it into a creative space you'll enjoy being in.

• Bring in some sound. Having a small sound system or TV in the space can make the time spent there more enjoyable.

• Make the space. Even if you don't have an actual room open in your home for a laundry room, you can create one in a corner of the kitchen or some other area. Add chic storage pieces that can also be used as countertops. Bring in some visual detail on the walls by hanging family photos or displaying your child's artwork for an instant laundry room makeover. The point is to surround yourself with things you love so doing the laundry can feel more like good clean fun.

• Learn more. For more ideas and information, see www.whirlpool.com.

Nutrition News And Notes

Fishing For Value At The Seafood Counter

(NAPSA)—According to a recent scientific report, seafood is an important source of protein and contains essential nutrients that can benefit the cardiovascular system. Putting quality fish on the dining room table in an affordable way is easy with these savvy shopping tips:

• Consider frozen or vacuum-packed seafood. Busy weekday schedules don't always allow a dash to the store for fresh fish. Have frozen seafood on hand and place it in the refrigerator the night before cooking it for a simple meal. An even easier option is to look for frozen, pre-marinated, ready-to-cook fish that come in vacuum packs.

• Mix and match. Buy some shrimp or a few salmon fillets and cube them at home. Marinate in store-bought teriyaki marinade and make kebabs with a variety of fruits and veggies like red onion and pineapple. Bake or grill and then serve over brown rice.

• Choose value varieties of salmon. Keta and coho salmon are garnering attention from seafood lovers. At a fraction of the price of other salmon species, keta and coho make great alternatives for anyone who prefers a milder taste.

• Look for affordable, responsibly farmed fish. Responsibly farmed fish are environmentally friendly and can be affordable, too. "Be sure to shop for fish that are farmed without the use of antibiotics, preservatives and added growth hormones," said David Pilat, Whole Foods Market's seafood buyer. "Our strict quality standards for farmed seafood ensure our shoppers get great taste and peace of mind that they are doing their part to save our oceans."

This recipe is sure to please the family without putting a strain on the grocery budget. Serve it with a salad and couscous or a quinoa pilaf.

Rosemary-Lime Salmon Kebabs
(Serves 4)

- 1 pound farmed or wild salmon fillets (fresh or thawed frozen), cut into chunks
- 1 zucchini, cut into chunks
- 1 yellow bell pepper, cut into chunks
- 1 large red onion, cut into chunks
- Sea salt and black pepper
- 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon (about 2 small sprigs) chopped rosemary leaves
- ½ cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 3 tablespoons lime juice
- Wooden or bamboo skewers, soaked in water for 10 minutes

Place salmon, zucchini, bell pepper and onion in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Whisk together garlic, rosemary, olive oil and lime juice in a small bowl. Pour mixture over salmon and vegetables, toss and marinate 15 to 30 minutes.

Preheat the grill or broiler. Skewer the salmon and vegetables, reserving marinade, and grill or broil 5 to 7 minutes, turning once, until salmon is cooked through and vegetables are tender. While cooking, boil the marinade in a small saucepan for 5 minutes. Drizzle over skewers and serve.

Wanted High Moisture Corn

Denco II of Morris will be putting your corn to work for you again this fall by using a new tool for you, the producer.

With the expectation of a higher moisture crop at harvest, we have a way of helping you achieve more bushels per acre by accepting high moisture corn (up to 20%) with no shrink discount! That is a 7.5% increase in bushel/acre if you're used to taking a 1.5% shrink discount as you market your corn.

We will also have price later contracts again for fall delivery. This corn will have to be 15% moisture or lower to qualify. The time period for this contract to be delivered will be October 1st- December 20th, 2013. The time period for the price later is October 1st, 2013 through April 15th, 2014 for $0.08 charge.

Follow A Weight Loss Plan That's Made For You

(NAPS)—Good news for the estimated 200 million Americans who are overweight and the nearly one in three who are clinically obese: a new program that uses your own DNA to help your weight loss.

This new approach to weight loss and sustained healthy eating was created by scientists and chefs as the only personalized weight management solution. It tailors home-delivered meal programs and exercise plans to each person's unique metabolism.

"Dieting has become a way of life for millions of Americans. Yet for all their efforts, statistics show that 95 percent gain the weight back in five years. This is due in part to the fact that most diets do not take into account how a person's own genetic makeup influences his or her weight," explained Victor Castellon, Pharm D CEO of GenoVive. "Specific genes can unlock a person's weight loss potential."

Recognizing that one size does not fit all when it comes to dieting, scientists and nutritionists turned to proven technology developed at major research universities around the world. By revealing the insights found in DNA about how your body works, GenoVive takes the guesswork out of weight loss by providing the tools you need to make lasting lifestyle changes.

You should always consult your physician before beginning any diet and exercise program. You can then start by getting the Weight Management DNA test kit, which includes a simple cheek swab to be returned to the company in a postage-paid envelope.

Then the scientists at a certified lab test your DNA to identify different gene variations that affect your weight management. The test results and personal information are kept confidential and after review of the results, each sample is destroyed.

Delicious dishes, such as this Italian chicken with white beans, can be designed, based on your body's metabolism, to help you reach your ideal weight.

You get a DNA analysis report and a meal and exercise program personalized to your needs. The report provides an explanation of how each of your own gene variations affects the way your body burns and stores food, as well as how it responds to exercise.

You also get from GenoVive:

- Home-delivered natural, gourmet meals for six days a week—breakfast, lunch, dinner, snacks, beverages and vitamin supplements. Eating small meals frequently sustains your metabolism throughout the day and helps you avoid overeating.

- Guidance to help you make healthy choices and enjoy favorite foods on the seventh day.

- Exercise programs that take into account your genotype, caloric intake and availability of time and equipment.

- A Web-based support community providing access to experts and other community members to motivate, answer questions and help you succeed.

Health Care Reform And Medicare—Separating Myth From Fact

(NAPS)—The passage of the health care law in March 2010 generated a tremendous amount of media coverage and sparked a flurry of interest among the general public. Unfortunately, as information about the law and its impact on Medicare spread, myths and confusion did as well.

More than a year after the passage of the law, some of those myths haven't been completely dispelled, and many people remain confused about how health reform will—and won't—affect Medicare. It's important for the 47 million Americans enrolled in Medicare—and the 10,000 baby boomers who are becoming eligible every day this year—to understand the facts.

Here are a few common myths and facts to help Medicare beneficiaries make informed decisions about their health care coverage:

MYTH: I can make changes to my Medicare coverage every year between Nov. 15 and Dec. 31.

FACT: Medicare beneficiaries should anticipate some changes to the enrollment periods.

This year, the Annual Election Period (AEP) for enrollees will start and end earlier, running from Oct. 15 to Dec. 7. It's important that beneficiaries carefully review their coverage options because once they select a Medicare plan during the AEP, most will be locked into that choice for the coming year.

MYTH: The health care law won't impact my prescription drug coverage.

FACT: Beneficiaries enrolled in a Medicare prescription drug plan or a Medicare Advantage plan with drug coverage who hit the coverage gap will be able to take advantage of new cost savings. In 2011, when beneficiaries are in the coverage gap, also called the doughnut hole, they'll get a discount of about 50 percent on the cost of most brand-name drugs and a 7 percent discount on the cost of generic drugs. These discounts will gradually increase until the coverage gap is closed in 2020.

Medicare beneficiaries can make informed decisions about their health care coverage.

MYTH: The health care reform law will bring an end to the Medicare Advantage program.

FACT: Medicare Advantage plans remain strong and have actually shown growth in membership since the passage of the health care law. Enrollment in Medicare Advantage plans increased by 5 percent from 2010 to 2011.

"Medicare Advantage plans are an alternative to Original Medicare that often provide benefits such as coverage of vision and hearing care, sometimes for no additional monthly premium," said Tom Paul, chief executive officer of United-Healthcare Medicare & Retirement, which is the largest business dedicated to the health and well-being needs of seniors and other Medicare beneficiaries. "Medicare Advantage plans have a track record of providing comprehensive, cost-effective health coverage, helping more than 11.5 million beneficiaries save money and access services not covered by Original Medicare."

Auctioneer Notes: It gives Zielsdorf Auction Co great pleasure to have the opportunity to sell the personal property owned by Sherilyn and the late Steve Hubert. Steve was an active auctioneer and has collected many interesting items and was active buying and doing reconstruction of properties in Granite Falls. Steve was not given the time to finish what he started, although there has been lots of work already done, there still remains the final touches. Our auction bill only touches a partial listing. BE PREPARED TO BUY IN TWO RINGS. There is something for everyone, the cars are awesome, the tools are like new, great collectibles, & lots of sporting items. Mark this date on your calendar, it could be your highlight of the summer. Thank you, Zielsdorf Auction Team

Directions: Granite Falls, MN: 229 Baldwin Street • Watch for Zielsdorf Auction signs.
