Sleep soundly. Live again.

McLaren Sleep Diagnostic Center—providing help for your chronic sleep problems

If you're experiencing excessive daytime sleepiness, difficulty sleeping or abnormal sleep behaviors, you may have a sleep disorder. People with the following medical conditions are also prone to sleep disorders:

■ atrial fibrillation	■ emphysema/COPD	■ polycythemia
■ congestive heart failure	■ high blood pressure	■ pulmonary hypertension
■ depression or bipolar disorder	■ overweight	■ seizure disorder
■ diabetes

Fortunately, most sleep disorders can be effectively treated once diagnosed, and McLaren Sleep Diagnostic Center can help. Our board-certified sleep physicians and registered polysomnographic technologists supervise the sleep studies and can provide you with state-of-the-art diagnoses and treatment, in conjunction with your primary physician. We offer the latest technology and provide the highest clinical quality in a home-like setting with private bath and bedroom.

Let us help you overcome your sleep problems and put vitality back into your life. Call 248.922.6840 for a consultation today.

Children learn and play in TLE's fun atmosphere

Music, science, fitness, math, reading, technology, art appreciation – sounds like a pretty busy day for an elementary school student.

However, this is the schedule of a preschooler at The Learning Experience, a child day care center that prides itself on its award winning, cutting edge curriculum and professional, certified staff members.

Children at The Learning Experience in Clarkston are exposed to a solid core curriculum. The day is structured to include many educational components as well as free time and fun activities. Older children have a curriculum workbook that they use everyday and keep a journal.

"Most 4-year-olds at the center are reading," said owner Pam Rush.

"This is considered a learning center. We have a very strong preschool," she said.

However, playing is still a big part of the center, and each room is filled with toys.

Besides the two large outside playgrounds, The Learning Experience is unique with their own indoor micro-Disneyland called Make Believe Boulevard.

Children love to explore socio-dramatic play and the room is one of the favorites! They adore dressing up and playing in the mock house, store, diner and fire department.

The Learning Experience staff enjoy teaching and helping children develop emotionally, socially and cognitively.

The carpeted upper level allows for some free play and also has a slide that flows into a ball pit.

"At any given time, we'll see kings, queens and princesses playing," Ms. Pam said. "We have a lot of fun here!"

In addition, children participate in enrichment programs such as Fun with Phonics, dance, art, music, math and science. Spanish and sign language are also included.

A bonus that many parents appreciate is that there are no fees for enrichment programs as the tuition is all-inclusive.

The facilities at The Learning Experience are state-of-the-art. From the moment children and parents enter the building they are greeted by a warm and caring atmosphere that is clean and conducive to learning.

Ms. Pam loves working with children and their families and makes sure her staff does, too. Staff members have to have more than a degree and spotless qualifications. They must genuinely enjoy being around children and interacting with them.

"We are here to love other people's children and keep them happy, safe and educated," she said.

A team of professionals work together to coordinate the day's activities for children. Everyone, from program and state certified lead teachers to the paraprofessionals and on-site cook, have one goal: to build a strong foundation so each child can develop emotionally, socially and cognitively at his or her own pace.

Parents concerned about safety and security can rest easy knowing that they've left their children in good hands. A security system requires that the doors remain locked all day with parents given a key fob for access.

Classrooms contain video monitoring systems so both center administrators and parents can check in on the class regularly. In addition, all staff members undergo an extensive background check.

The Learning Experience is located at 7210 Sashabaw Road in Clarkston. For more information, visit www.thelearningexperience.com or call 248-625-5285.

Buy sell or trade precious metals at Mimi's Metals

Honesty is the best policy.

That's the word from Ed Smith, Ryce Akins and Lynn Harmon, partners at Mimi's Metals in Lake Orion.

"We know if we're honest with people, they're not only going to come back, they're also going to tell their family and friends about us, and that's the best kind of advertising we can get," said Smith, who began collecting coins as a child some 25 years ago.

Established in 2008 and open in its current location since November, Mimi's Metals buys, sells and trades all precious metals, including gold, silver, platinum, and palladium.

For Smith, what started as a hobby soon became a passion. The draw, he explained, was both the artistic value of the different designs, as well as the historical aspect - knowing the pieces were once traded as actual currency.

As he read any information he could find on the topic, Smith began buying precious metals as a mechanism for saving - and recommending others do the same.

"It can be difficult for a lot of people to save money," he said. "By investing in precious metals, you're saving, as well as preserving your wealth against inflation."

With so much interest and knowledge

Mimi's Metals is named for Mimi, a three-year-old Chihuahua who often greets visitors with a friendly hello.

about the topic, it only made sense to set up shop and open a business.

"We got tired of seeing friends taken advantage of by people in this business," said Akins, explaining that a large part of the focus at Mimi's Metals is on education - helping people understand the value of their coins, jewelry or other possessions, whether they're looking to sell or not.

"We always pay the best price possible," Smith added. "We'll sit down and talk with people, let them know how to test for silver, how to look at a piece and make an accurate judgment of its value, and how to find items of value."

While jewelry, coins and bullion make up the bulk of merchandise Mimi's Metals deals in, other items come and go, as well.

Silver, especially, is moving fast.

"Anything silver is hot right now," Smith said. "Tea sets, silverware, jewelry, coins - if it's silver, there's someone who will buy it."

Including Mimi's Metals.

"We constantly have people in and out of here. We pay as high as we can and sell as low and we can. Our margins are thinner, but our volume is higher and that keeps us profitable and keeps people coming in."

In addition to the business' buy/sell/trade aspect, they also offer precious metal estate appraisal services, fundraising opportunities for non-profit organizations. Jewelry is available at wholesale prices, as well.

For example, a shopper might come by one day and find a $10,000 wedding set for $2,500.

The business is fully insured and meets all requirements of the Michigan Precious Metal and Gem Dealer Act, as required by state law.

Mimi's Metals is located at 4315 S. Baldwin Road in Lake Orion. Call 248-393-6670 or visit www.mimismetals.com for more information.

Marketti Academy continues to grow during recession

Recession? Not at Marketti Academy of Cosmetology, now in its fourth year of business, which has continued to grow and expand since opening its doors in March of 2007.

Marketti Academy is currently expanding its senior clinic floor, adding room for 15 more stylist stations, to keep up with its thriving admission rate. Co-Owner Allison Murphy explained that each senior student has their own station on the clinic floor much like a stylist would have in a salon.

"We want the transition from school to salon to be seamless for our students and that means providing them the right learning environment," Murphy said.

The clinic floor, which is open to the public, offers a full salon service menu at discounted prices. New services continue to be added to the Marketti Academy service menu including the recently released Shellac™ Manicure.

The Manicure lasts for up to 14 days with no chipping, no peeling, and no smudges.

Tawny Marketti-Pearson said, "Educating our students on the newest techniques is important, but giving them the opportunity to perform those services as well is critical to their future success in the salon industry."

To recognize and thank clients for returning to Marketti Academy for salon services, Murphy and Marketti-Pearson created a frequent client punch card. Any purchase of at least $5 gets the client a punch. After 10 punches the client is eligible for $10 off of any service valued at $10 or greater.

"Our clients have been so supportive of our students, we wanted to do something to say 'thanks,'" Marketti-Pearson said.

Admissions also continue to increase due in part to the National Accreditation Marketti Academy received last year. With National Accreditation the Academy offers financial aid, like the Federal Pell Grant, to students who qualify. Interested students can apply for FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) online at www.fafsa.ed.gov and enter the Marketti Academy school code (041593).

Marketti Academy offers classes in cosmetology, manicuring, esthetics, and instructor training. The Academy's State Board passing rates for each program is very high in both theory and practical applications.

"We set high standards for our students because we know they can reach them," Murphy said.

Ever see a heart attack about to happen? Now you can

February was American Heart Month and if you haven't heard yet, the statistics are shocking.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death for both men and women in the United States; 80% of women ages 40-60 have one or more risk factors.

But there is good news.

Prevention can lower your risk of becoming a statistic. Simple lifestyle changes can help control existing conditions.

Because you can't prevent what you don't know, discovering your risk factors is important.

Talk to your physician today about your risks and whether or not any screening tests might be appropriate.

If your physician determines screening is in order, inquire about the following three effective, non-invasive tests:

Coronary Calcium Score (Heart Scan)

This fast, safe and easy CT scan of the heart can accurately detect—or rule out—the presence of heart disease in otherwise healthy individuals.

A 64-slice CT Scanner and special software is used to detect the presence of plaque in the coronary arteries.

Carotid Ultrasound

This test is radiation-free and uses ultrasound to examine blood vessels within the neck.

If detected, the presence of atherosclerotic plaque within these vessels could lead to stroke and may indicate the presence of other cardiovascular disease.

Coronary CT Angiography

A less invasive and less expensive alternative to cardiac catheterization procedures, the CT Angiography is also fast and effective.

Using a 64-slice CT scanner, a 3D high resolution scan is performed to determine if either fatty or calcium deposits (plaques) have built up in the coronary arteries.

These screening tests can safely, quickly and non-invasively determine the presence of heart damage and cardiovascular disease.

Many insurance carriers cover these tests, but you may want to contact your insurance company to ensure that they do.

When you know what your heart is telling you, you and your physician will be better prepared to take the necessary action.

Associated Radiologists of Clarkston is your local source for the best imaging technology and expert diagnostic interpretation.

Discover your risk. Learn what your heart is telling you. Schedule your heart wellness screening test today.

Call Associated Radiologists of Clarkston at 248-620-5012.

HEART WELLNESS SCREENING

This year about 1.2 million Americans will have a first or recurrent coronary attack. About 452,000 of these people will die. Coronary heart disease is the nation's single leading cause of death.

DO YOU HAVE A HEALTHY HEART?

Associated Radiologists of Clarkston offers 3 non-invasive tests for your heart:

Coronary Calcium Score (Heart Scan)

This fast, safe and easy CT scan of the heart is the only non-invasive test that can accurately detect—or rule out—the presence of heart disease in otherwise healthy individuals. The test uses the advanced 64-slice CT and special software to detect the presence of plaque in the coronary arteries.

Carotid Ultrasound

This fast, easy, non-invasive and radiation-free test uses ultrasound to look at blood vessels within the neck. If detected, the presence of atherosclerotic plaque within these vessels could lead to stroke and may indicate the presence of other cardiovascular disease.

Coronary CT Angiography

This new test is an excellent, less invasive and less expensive alternative to cardiac catheterization procedures in certain defined situations. This test, which uses our advanced 64-slice CT scanner and the injection of a contrast agent, can also be used for patients who have coronary stents or bypass grafts to verify that the arteries are still open and functioning properly.

Schedule your Heart Wellness Scanning appointment today.
