

FORECLOSURE MILLS, STATE-BY-STATE.

If your bank is represented by any of the following attorneys, or by a firm using the services of Lender Processing Services, Fidelity National Foreclosure Solutions, DocX, there is an excellent chance you have fraudulent affidavits. LPS (formerly FNFS and affiliated w/ DocX) is a notorious foreclosure affidavit mill out of Mendota Heights, MN and Jacksonville, FL. Tell your attorney to find back issues of their newsletter, The Summit, for a play-by-play description of robo-signing. Tell your attorney to find Max Gardner's Top 200 Signs you have a false document.

This is just a list of the firms who got awards or special recognition in the three back issues (Sept. '06, Oct. and Dec. '07) of the Summit I've been able to find; not a comprehensive list by any stretch, because not all firms got an award, and I only have three issues of the thirty or forty that were published.

"I received yesterday the letter and check regarding the Bankruptcy Incentive Award. I am very proud of the work that my staff has done to get to this point. We are striving to be in the top 10 nationwide. I fully understand that you do not need to give out the incentive awards. I am very appreciated of this and in my way have tried to use your incentive to create an incentive for my staff. We are going to use the check to create a "lunch" fund to buy bagels, pizza and other foods."

Being in Florida and all, things are different. It was very good to see the Florida Bar publish this piece about attorneys whose clients file fraudulent docs in court. Attorneys are required to let the court know about fraudulent docs post-judgment. This is an especially powerful tool to use against the attorneys who aided and abetted this huge, staggering fraud by the banks, and this article can be used as a road map to file a complaint in Florida, and the logic can be used in every state.

Check this out!

Use this list and write in, blog, comment, and complain everywhere. Call your state's Attorney General! If they want copies of The Summit, please get in touch with me and I'll email them to you.

If lawyers are going to restore any shred of the respect they feel they deserve, they'd sure as heck better start policing their own! We've got an entire profession who is specially, rigorously, and expensively trained in the minutiae of right and wrong, and you're telling me they didn't know what was going on? Baloney. If you or me filed a fraudulent affidavit in court, what do you think would happen? Man, they'd put us under the jail. But when banks come in and their lawyers file phony affidavits by the truck load, does the sheer scale of the fraud make it OK?

Why has no one gone to jail yet?
