Step 1 – Eligibility

You should use this form if you meet the general eligibility criteria for Australian citizenship, that is, you:

- are aged 18 years or over and under 60
- satisfy the residence requirement (see Step 2)
- are likely to reside, or to continue to reside, in Australia or to maintain a close and continuing association with Australia, and
- are of good character.

The Citizenship Wizard on the citizenship website can help you check your eligibility.

New Zealand citizens

Special eligibility conditions apply for New Zealand citizens who arrived in Australia before 26 February 2001 (see New Zealand citizens on page 8).

Children

Children under 16 years of age can be included on a responsible parent's application form. They are also able to apply in their own right by completing form 1290 Application for Australian citizenship – Other situations which must be signed by a responsible parent.

The Australian Citizenship Act 2007 defines responsible parent in relation to a child as:

- a parent, unless that parent does not have parental responsibility because of orders made by the Family Court of Australia, or
- any person having responsibility over the child because of an order made by the Family Court, or
- any person who has guardianship or custody of the child under an Australian law or a foreign law, whether because of adoption, operation of law, an order of a court or otherwise.

Children 16 or 17 years of age will need to complete their own application using form 1290 Application for Australian citizenship – Other situations.

Step 2 – Residence requirement

The residence requirement is based on the time you have lived in Australia and the time you have spent outside Australia. The Residence Requirement Calculator on the citizenship website can help you calculate whether you meet this requirement.

General residence requirement

Permanent residents must:

- have been living in Australia on a valid Australian visa for 4 years immediately before applying which must include the last 12 months as a permanent resident, and
- not have been absent from Australia for more than one year in the past 4 years, including no more than 90 days in the year before applying.

Special residence requirement

Special residence requirements may apply to you if:

- you are seeking to undertake activities that are supported by particular organisations, such as the Australian Olympic Committee, or
- you have been engaged in particular kinds of work for a total of 2 in the past 4 years, that required you to travel outside Australia.

Additional documents are required to apply for either of these special residence requirements.

For more information see Special residence requirements applicants on page 8.

Exclusions

A period of confinement in a prison or psychiatric institution by order of a court because of an offence against Australian law, will not be counted as part of your lawful residence except in some limited circumstances, see Ministerial discretions.

Exemptions

There are cases where you may be exempt from the residence requirement.

You are exempt from the residence requirement if you:

- have served 90 days in the permanent forces of the Commonwealth of Australia, or
- have served 6 months (130 full attendance days) in the navy, army or air force reserve of the Commonwealth of Australia, or
- were discharged from defence service as medically unfit for service as a result of that service.

Ministerial discretions

The Minister has discretionary powers to vary the residence requirement in the following circumstances, if you will be in Australia at the time your application is decided.

If you will be overseas during this period, only discretions 5 and 6 apply.

- 1. If you were in Australia unlawfully as the result of an administrative error, then that period of time may be treated as lawful residence.
- 2. If you were in Australia lawfully but not as a permanent resident as the result of an administrative error, then that od of permanent

6. If you spent time outside Australia and are a permanent resident in an interdependent relationship with an Australian citizen and you have had a close and continuing association with Australia, then that period of time may be treated as time spent in Australia.

You will need to provide documents to support your claims at the time you lodge your application.

Step 3 – Read the citizenship resource book

The citizenship test resource book Australian Citizenship. Our Common Bond provides you with information you will need to prepare for your citizenship test. To download a copy of the citizenship test resource book, please visit the citizenship website at www.citizenship.gov.au or to order a copy, call the Citizenship Information Line.

Step 4 – Original documents

You will need to provide the department with a range of documents to prove that you are who you say you are and to establish you have not had any serious criminal convictions. These documents are called proof of identity and good character documents.

When applying for variations to the residence requirement or fees, you will need to provide additional documents – these are called supporting documents.

You must provide original documents at your citizenship appointment. If you have to get documents from overseas this can take time.

You will not be able to complete the application process without these documents.

Translations and certified copies

If your documents are not in English, you will need to provide official translations. In Australia, you must use translators accredited by the National Accreditation Authority of Translators and Interpreters. For more information, see www.naati.com.au

Copies of original documents must be attached to your application. These copies must be certified by a person with the appropriate authority. See Identity declarations – list of professions on page 9 for people who may certify documents.

If you are outside Australia when applying, contact the Australian diplomatic mission in the country that issued the documents for advice on acceptable translators, and who can certify your original documents.

Proof of identity

Applicants 18 years of age or over

You must provide documents to prove your identity and the identity of all children included in your application.

For yourself, provide the following documents.

1. Three original documents that collectively show your:

- photograph
- signature
- current residential address
- date of birth, birth name and any changes of name.

- 2. Part E Identity declaration completed by a person with the appropriate authority.
- 3. Evidence of when you first arrived in Australia and your present country of citizenship.

If you do not provide these documents, your application will not be accepted and will be returned to you.

Children

If you are including children under 16 years of age in your application, you must provide the following:

1. Proof of identity documents that show a:

- birth name and date of birth
- photograph and current name.
- 2. Part E Identity declaration completed by a person with the appropriate authority.
- 3. Evidence of arrival in Australia and present country of citizenship.

The checklist below will help you identify suitable documents. If you have difficulty finding suitable documents please call the Citizenship Information Line.

Identity declaration

Applicants 18 years of age or over

As well as your proof of identity documents, you will need to provide an identity declaration and an endorsed passportsized photograph of yourself.

The identity declaration must be completed and signed by an Australian citizen who:

- has known you for at least one year and belongs to a profession on the list on page 9, and
- is not related to you by birth, marriage or de facto partnership, and
- is easy to contact by telephone during normal working hours.

The person who signs the declaration must also write on the back of your photograph the words: This is a true photograph of (your full name) and sign the back of the photograph using the same signature as on the declaration.

The photograph should be carefully attached to the front of the application form without obscuring the image, or you can place the photograph in a plastic sleeve or envelope and staple it to the form.

The photograph must be:

- no more than 6 months old
- a full-face view of your head and shoulders (untinted prescription glasses can be worn a photograph that shows facial features only is acceptable if you wear a head covering
- for religious reasons)
- of good quality, in colour, against a plain, light coloured background (laser copies are not acceptable).

Note: If you are outside Australia when applying you can have the identity declaration completed by a citizen of your country of residence who has known you for at least one year and

Children

You will need to provide an identity declaration and endorsed photograph for each child in your application.

If you have more children that the space on the application form allows, please use form 1195 Identity declaration for each child.

The declaration and photograph should be signed by an Australian citizen who has known your child for at least one year and belongs to a profession on the list on page 9.

In the case of children under 6 years of age, if no Australian citizen has known them for one year, then the declaration can be signed by someone who has known them for less than one year and belongs to a profession on the list on page 9.

The photograph of each child should be individually attached to the front of the application form without obscuring the image, or you can place the photographs in a plastic sleeve or envelope and staple it to the form.

Good character

If you are 18 years of age or over, you will need to show that you are of good character.

Your application for Australian citizenship cannot be approved if you are confined to prison in Australia, or when proceedings for an offence against an Australian law (including proceedings by way of appeal or review) are pending.

There are also other circumstances in which an application

Convictions

You must tell the department about any convictions you may have had in Australia or overseas.

A conviction is a criminal charge leading to a guilty verdict in a court of law resulting in imprisonment or a fine or good behaviour bond. A traffic infringement, such as an on-the-spot speeding or parking fine is not considered a conviction.

Certain circumstances relating to criminal offences prevent an application for Australian citizenship by conferral being approved. These are summarised below.

- You are in prison in Australia, or have proceedings pending against you.

Spent convictions

You must declare spent convictions in your application.

The spent convictions law allows people with minor convictions to disregard those convictions after a certain period of time. A conviction may be considered spent if:

- it is 10 years since the date of the conviction (or 5 years for juvenile offenders), and
- the person was not sentenced to imprisonment for more than 30 months, and
- the person has not re-offended during the 10 years (or 5 years for juveniles) period, and

• a statutory or prescribed exclusion does not apply. The department is allowed to ask you for this information for the purpose of assessing your application.

Overseas penal clearance certificates

Overseas penal clearance certificates, or police checks as they are known in some countries, show whether a person has a criminal record.

You may need to supply an overseas penal clearance certificate as part of your documentation if you are 18 years of age or over.

When to provide overseas penal clearance certificates

Penal clearance certificates from overseas countries are required if:

- you lived or travelled overseas since the age of 18 years or over, and
- you held a permanent Australian visa at that time, and
- the total time spent overseas added up to 12 months or more, and
- the time spent in any one country was more than 90 days, or
- requested by the department.

You will need overseas penal clearance certificates from each country where you spent more than 90 days.

In addition, New Zealand citizens who do not hold a permanent visa, must provide a penal clearance from New Zealand if they have left Australia since the age of 18, irrespective of destination or the amount of time spent overseas. For more information contact the Citizenship Information Line.

Information about where to obtain an overseas penal clearance certificates by county can be obtained from the citizenship website or contact the Citizenship Information Line.

Supporting documents

Documents supporting your application are required for a variety of reasons, such as:

- to claim exemption from the residence requirement
- to provide evidence that your spouse or partner is an Australian citizen
- to provide evidence that you are the responsible parent of children included in your application
- to claim fee concessions (form 1298i Citizenship fees provides a list of fees and concessions).

Save Accept All

The following checklist provides a list of supporting documents commonly required. Attach certified copies of relevant documents to your application. Bring original documents to your appointment.

You may be required to provide additional documents to those listed.

If you are overseas when you are applying, you should check the website of the nearest overseas Australian immigration office for more information before posting your application to Australia.

Step 5 – Complete your application form

Please use a pen, and write neatly in English using BLOCK LETTERS. Corrections made with liquid paper are not acceptable.

Part A – Your details – Part A requires you to provide your personal details and show that you satisfy the residence requirement.

If you change address during the application process you must tell the department your new address. See form 929 Change of address and/or passport details.

Part B – Your children – Children under 16 years of age can be included in a parent's application providing that parent has responsibility for them, or legal custody.

Children 16 or 17 years of age will need to complete their own application using form 1290 Application for Australian citizenship – Other situations.

Part C – Your parents – Part C requires you to provide the personal details of both your parents (or adopted parents, if applicable) including whether they have been known by any other names.

Part D – Proof of identity – Part D requires you to list the documents you are providing to prove your identity.

Part E – Identity declaration – Part E is not to be completed by the applicant. See page 3 for information about who should complete the Identity declaration and sign the back of the photograph.

Part F – Good character – If you are 18 years of age or over, you will need to show that you are of good character. See page 4 for information about this part of the application.

Part G – Supporting documents – Part G requires you to list any supporting documents you are providing with your application.

Part H – Nomination of representative – Part H allows you to nominate another person who can make enquiries about your application on your behalf. Make sure you sign the authorisation at Part H if you want this to happen.

Step 6 – Lodge your application form

Completed application forms can be lodged online or posted to the department. When your application is received, you will be provided with a date and time for your citizenship ### appointment.

Lodge your application online

Online applications are lodged through the website www.citizenship.gov.au before you attend your citizenship appointment.

Children under 16 years of age may be included in the online application of a responsible parent.

Generally, you can make an application online if you:

- are a permanent resident
- are in Australia
- are over 18 years of age
- are not part of the Australian Defence Forces
- have travelled in and out of Australia since July 1990
- are not applying for a concession or exemption

• are not applying for a residence discretion or exemption. You must provide a separate form 1195 Identity declaration. You can download and print this form from the website.

If you lodge your application online you must bring the following to your citizenship appointment for yourself and any children included in your application:

- form 1195 Identity declaration with one current endorsed photograph. This form is completed, and the photograph endorsed by a person with the appropriate authority. See Identity declarations list of professions on page 9
- originals of the documents you have listed in Part D Proof of identity
- originals of other supporting documents, if required.

Lodge your application by post

Applications for Australian citizenship can be posted to your nearest office of the department. See page 10 for contact details.

If you lodge your application by post you must include certified copies of original documents with your application. Do not post original documents with your application.

You must bring the following to your citizenship appointment for yourself and any children included in your application:

- originals of the documents you have listed in Part D Proof of identity
- originals of other supporting documents, if required.

Applicants outside Australia

If you are outside Australia, your application must be lodged by mail with certified copies of documents. The fee must be paid by credit card only. See page 10 for the mailing address for applications posted outside Australia.

he preferred methods of payment

Step 7 – Attend your citizenship appointment

Take your original documents to your citizenship appointment.

At your appointment an officer of the department will confirm your eligibility for Australian citizenship, check your original documents, verify your identity and ensure you have satisfied all the requirements.

You should allow about 2 hours for your appointment.

Your application may be refused if you do not attend your appointment.

Step 8 – Citizenship test

You will be able to sit a citizenship test after your documents have been checked at your appointment. The citizenship test resource book Australian Citizenship: Our Common Bond provides you with the information you need to prepare for the test.

Help with the test

People with a disability

If your disability means you are unable to read the computer screen, or use a computer mouse, our staff will provide you with assistance to complete the test.

People with low levels of English literacy skills

It is expected that most people will need to be able to speak and read basic English to complete the citizenship test without assistance. If you have problems with reading in English, our staff will provide assistance by reading the questions and possible answers to you.

To be eligible for this assistance, you will need to have completed at least 400 hours of English language tuition under the Adult Migrant English Programme (AMEP).

Step 9 – Wait to receive notification

Service standard

The department endeavours to decide 80% of applications within 60 calendar days. If a complete application is submitted with all required documentation, the application can be decided well within this timeframe.

You must tell the department if you change your address, and you must be in Australia at the time a decision is made. You may need to defer your travel plans or, if your travel is urgent, contact the department for advice.

If your application is refused

If your application is refused you have the right to ask for the decision to be reviewed by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT). Your letter of notification will advise you where you can lodge an application for review. You should lodge your a application with the AAT as soon as possible.

Save

Step 10 – Attend a citizenship ceremony

After you have received notification that your application has been successful you will need to attend a citizenship ceremony and make a pledge of commitment to complete the process of becoming an Australian citizen.

Usually, you will be contacted within 3 months about attending a citizenship ceremony.

If your children are under 16 years of age, they are not required to make the pledge but are welcome to attend a ceremony. They will become Australian citizens when you make the pledge.

You must attend your citizenship ceremony within 12 months of your application being approved otherwise the decision to approve you application for citizenship could be reviewed and cancelled.

If you have not been contacted about attending a citizenship ceremony within 6 months, please call the Citizenship Information Line for advice.

Passports and travel

You will be able to apply for an Australian passport once you have attended a ceremony and made the pledge. For information on Australian passports visit www.passports.gov.au You should travel out of and into Australia on your Australian passport.

New Zealand citizens

Not all New Zealand citizens are permanent residents. To be eligible to apply you must:

- be a permanent resident, or
- have been in Australia on 26 February 2001 on a Special Category visa (SCV), or
- have spent a period(s) totalling 12 months in Australia on a SCV in the 2 years immediately before 26 February 2001, or
- have a Centrelink certificate issued prior to 26 February 2004 stating that you were residing in Australia at a particular time.

You may apply for Australian citizenship under one of the following special residence categories if you meet all other eligibility criteria for citizenship by conferral including sitting for the citizenship test and the good character requirements, if you satisfy the following requirements.

1. You are seeking to engage in activities that are supported by particular organisations, such as the Australian Olympic and Paralympics committees, Tennis Australia or a federal government agency.

To be residentially eligible you must have been a permanent appileation. During that in year interior of the foremaking the seen lawfully present in Australia for at least 180 days, including 90 days in the 12 months immediately before making the application.

2. You have been engaged in particular kinds of work requiring regular travel outside Australia.

To be residentially eligible you must have held a valid Australian visa for 4 years, immediately before applying, including one year as a permanent resident immediately before applying.

You must also have been living in Australia for a total of 16 months (480 days) during the 4 years before you apply, with at least 4 months (120 days) of that time in the year immediately before your application.

Applications must include supporting documents. See checklist Evidence for the special residence requirement on page 5.

The special residence requirement cannot be used in conjunction with Ministerial discretions 3, 5 and 6. The special residence requirement only applies to you and not your spouse or any other persons included in your application. See Step 2 – Residence requirement on page 1.

Applicants can apply for citizenship and be approved when outside Australia.

About the information you give

The department is authorised to collect personal information and personal identifiers for the purposes of administering the Australian Citizenship Act 2007 (the Act) and the Australian Citizenship Regulations 2007.

Under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the Privacy Act), the department may disclose your personal information in various circumstances, including where such disclosure is consistent with the department's disclosure practices of which you are reasonably likely to have been aware.

It is the department's practice to disclose your personal information other than personal identifiers to other Commonwealth (and in some circumstances, state and territory) Government agencies to confirm your identity and for other purposes connected with the Act, or to verify with the issuing agency, the authenticity of a document you have presented to the department, or in some cases to assist other agencies to administer their legislation.

Agencies to which the department may disclose your personal information other than personal identifiers include but are not restricted to:

- Australian Electoral Commission for the purpose of administering the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918
- Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) for the purpose of administering the Australian Passport Act 2005
- Centrelink for the purpose of administering the Social Security (Administration) Act 1999 and Family Assistance (Administration) Act 1999
- Medicare and Centrelink for the purposes of administering the citizenship test
- Commonwealth, state and territory police and other agencies to help assess character requirements for citizenship
- Local governments and other organisations that conduct and host citizenship ceremonies
- · Commonwealth, state and territory Members of Parliament for the purpose of formally welcoming new citizens.

Personal identifiers collected under the Act are photographs and signatures. The department and DFAT have signed an arrangement in accordance with the Act that permits disclosure of your personal identifiers for the purposes of administering the Australian Passport Act 2005. When your application for Australian citizenship is approved, your photograph, client number, name, date of birth and gender will be provided to DFAT.

30. Permanent employee of the Australian Postal Corporation

The Act permits disclosure of your personal identifiers in the following circumstances:

- for the purposes of the Act or its regulations, or of the Migration Act 1958 or the Migration Regulations 1994, or
- for the purpose of administering or managing the storage of identifying information, or
- for the purpose of making the identifying information in question available to you, or
- to an agency of the Commonwealth, a state or a territory in order to verify that you are an Australian citizen, or
- under an arrangement entered into with an agency of the Commonwealth, or with a state or territory or an agency of a state or territory, for the exchange of identifying information, or
- when reasonably necessary for the enforcement of the criminal law of the Commonwealth, a state or a territory, or
- when required by an Australian law, or
- for the purpose of a proceeding before a court or tribunal relating to you, or
- for the purpose of an investigation by the Privacy Commissioner or the Ombudsman relating to action taken by the department, or
- if the disclosure takes place with your written consent.

Your personal identifiers can also be disclosed if a person believes on reasonable grounds, that the disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the life or health of you or of any other person.

Privacy Act 1988 and Freedom of Information Act 1982

You have a right to make a complaint to the Privacy Commissioner about the handling of your personal information and personal identifiers.

The Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act) gives you the right to access certain information and documents in the possession of the Government of the Commonwealth and its agencies. You have a right under the FOI Act to seek access to information or documents about you. You can request the department to amend records containing your personal information that is incomplete, incorrect, out of date or misleading.

The department's collection, access, storage, use and disclosure of your personal information and personal identifiers is governed by the Privacy Act and the

Part L – Declaration

WARNING: It is an offence under section 50 of the Australian Citizenship Act 2007 to deliberately make, or cause to make, a false or misleading statement, or conceal circumstances in relation to an application.

39 Please read the following carefully before signing.

Complete this declaration if you are the main applicant and are aged 18 years or over.

- I declare that I intend to reside or continue to reside in Australia, or maintain a close and continuing association with Australia.
- I declare that the information I have supplied in this form is complete, truthful and correct in every detail.
- I authorise the Department of Immigration and Citizenship to make any enquiries necessary and to disclose relevant information necessary to determine eligibility for Australian citizenship. (See About the information you give on page 9)
- I understand that the Department of Immigration and Citizenship may disclose personal information and personal identifiers to other agencies as outlined in this form. (See About the information you give on page 9)
- I acknowledge that this application constitutes an application for evidence of Australian citizenship.
- I recognise that by becoming an Australian citizen I will become a formal member of the community of the Commonwealth of Australia.
- I understand that Australian citizenship is a shared identity, a common bond which unites all Australians while respecting their diversity.
- I understand that:
  - Australian society values respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual, freedom of religion, commitment to the rule of law, parliamentary democracy, equality of men and women and a spirit of egalitarianism that embraces mutual respect, tolerance, fair play and compassion for those in need, and the pursuit of the public good
  - Australian society values equality of opportunity for individuals, regardless of their race, religion or ethnic background
  - the English language, as the national language, is an important
  - unifying element of Australian society.
- I accept that Australian citizenship involves reciprocal rights and responsibilities. The responsibilities of citizenship include obeying Australian laws, including those relating to voting at elections and serving on a jury.
- In seeking to become an Australian citizen, I undertake to accept these responsibilities and respect the values of Australian society.
- I recognise that a prosperous, successful and peaceful Australia depends upon the support of all Australians, including me, for those things that we value and share.
